

General Description

The CESI control panels are user-friendly multipurpose interfaces that can be used for numerous applications. CESI control panels are primarily used to operate doors, gates, global emergency functions, turn on lights and fans, and control water, telephone, and ventilation systems. The panels can also be integrated to work with intercom and PA systems, CCTV systems, and fire alarm systems to provide local alarms and trouble annunciation.

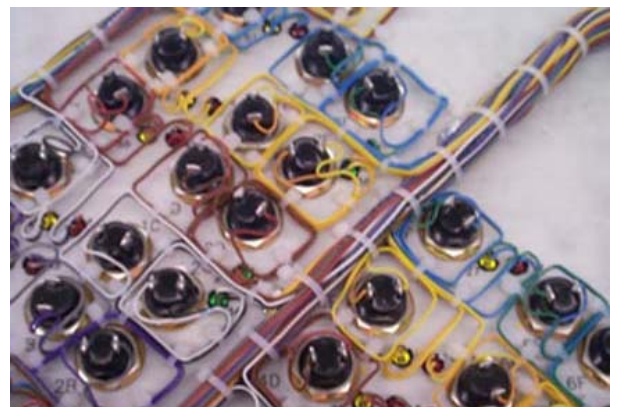

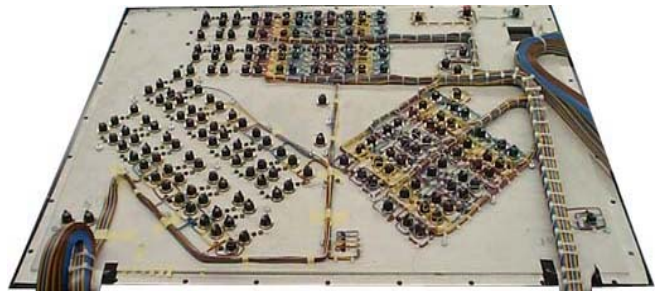

All CESI control panels are custom designed to our Customer's specification utilizing graphical or linear layouts.

The layouts and switches on CESI panels are color coded to represent conventional functionalities. Switches are supplied in red, yellow, black, blue and green to accomplish color-coding of various functions.

Waterproof switches and reverse silk screened Lexan faced panels provide for a durable, spill proof control panel. All the wires are soldered directly onto the LEDs and switches for a more reliable and longer lasting connection.
